

Which Service is The Best for Me?

How Do I Decide if I Need a CSP (comprehensive school package) or Hourly Work?

IS THE CSP RIGHT FOR ME?

If you are starting out on your MBA application journey, the CSP (comprehensive school package) may be the best way for you to collect your thoughts and get your value proposition started for how you are going to present yourself to the schools you have selected for application.

The CSP covers everything from how to research and choose the schools that may be the best fit for you, through communication with the schools, as well as how to reach out to members of the community who may be able to share their experiences with you. The CSP allows you to begin to build your case for your application- setting the themes for your essays and resume, and getting your letter of recommendation writers onboard with what you are asking them to do. Additionally, you will work on your actual online application constructing the biographical and career data presentation that can be used for multiple schools, keeping in mind the word and character limits allotted for the brief questions which are being asked.

If you are invited to interview, the CSP will prepare you for this interaction, in its many forms (on campus, alumni, admissions committee member, and group interview) as well as all follow up communication with the school.

Once the decisions are in, we will work with you to help you choose between your decisions and navigate the waitlist with communication to the schools.

IS HOURLY WORK RIGHT FOR ME?

Hourly work may be the best match for clients who have a firm idea of what they are presenting; they have working drafts of the parts of the application that they would like support on (i.e. not starting from scratch) and have done several iterations of these deliverables before sharing them with the Expert Coach.

Because hourly work is targeted towards working on specific parts of the application, including the essay, letters of recommendation, resume, and online application- it is important to give yourself enough hours to work with your Expert Coach.

We have generally found that two hours of coach time can equate to approximately 2 iterations of essays, though it can greatly vary by school, and by the condition of the materials. These hours do go quickly, and your Expert Coach will provide you with an ongoing record so you know how much time you have spent. Additional work, such as letters of recommendation, or online application review, would also be approximately 2 iterations for 2 hours, although this can also greatly vary by school and by the conditions of the materials.

IS A HYBRID MODEL RIGHT FOR ME?

Hourly work can also be utilized as an add-on or ad-hoc service to supplement comprehensive school packages. For example, if you've worked with us on a CSP/PSP for Columbia, it would be sufficient to purchase hours to complete an application for NYU given the closeness of their main thematic essay, and to work on NYU's one additional essay.

Please be advised that hourly work for existing CSP clients should be completed in the same timeframe as comprehensive package work, for example, over the course of 4-6 or more weeks. We treat each and every application with the same amount of effort. One or two hours may not produce the same level of output that can be completed on a comprehensive package.

SHOULD I CHOOSE A STANDARD CSP OR A PREMIUM?

All of our CSP clients have the added benefit of a Director's overview during their work with us. At a midpoint, the Director will review and give feedback on your draft application to ensure that the presentation is heading in the right direction with regards to content and approach. If you would like additional Director support, the Premium Upgrade includes the Director on the initial strategy call, and then two rounds of review (at first and final draft stage).
