B2B SaaS- HRTech / Remote- US-based company

- Zero-to-one GTM ownership: worked directly with the founder to define ICP, build competitive landscape map, develop positioning, and determine which acquisition channels actually worked — with no existing playbook to follow.
- Built and owned full content engine(generation and distribution) as sole marketer: case studies, customer stories, video content, webinar programmes, email campaigns, social media, and founder personal brand.
- Drove problem-awareness through evangelism-led content strategy, creating a drumbeat of thought leadership that established Wilya as a credible voice in Manufacturing HR communities.
- Reengineered field marketing strategy: repositioned from high-scale, low-ROI events to high-intent, minority-focused forums: embedding live lead capture, case studies, and interactive exercises to increase attendee-to-lead conversion to 80%+.
- Built GPT-powered sales insight engine analysing call transcripts at scale, surfacing objections, competitor references, and buying triggers: cutting manual research time by ~45% and continuously improving positioning.
- Developed modular master pitch deck by industry vertical, enabling faster sales customisation without fragmenting core brand positioning.
